

English Origins of American Colonists. Articles Excerpted from the New York Genealogical and Biographical Record

One of the main objectives in American genealogy is to identify an immigrants place of origin and parentage. This pursuit has been so important that thousands of pages of abstracts and transcriptions have been published in American periodicals and learned journals over the years. Among the most important of these periodicals is The New York Genealogical and Biographical Record, which, between the years 1903 and 1916, published four lengthy series of abstracted English probate records and depositions, now collected in this work. These abstracts constitute some of the most valuable articles on the English origins of American colonists ever published. In order of appearance here, they are: (1) Clues from English Archives Contributory to American Genealogy, by J. Henry Lea and J. R. Hutchinson; (2) New York Gleanings in England, by Lothrop Withington; (3) Genealogical Notes from the High Court of Admiralty Examinations, by J. R. Hutchinson; and (4) A Digest of Essex Wills with Particular Reference to Names of Importance in the American Colonies, by William Gilbert. For the researchers convenience, all four articles appear here in their entirety with an index of nearly 10,000 names.

Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to english so forgive me the dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
