The Princess Anne County Order Book and Minute Books are a must have resource for any researcher and can provide the needed clues to help fill in missing information in a family tree. For Princess Anne County, the Order Book and Minute Books are the clerks annotations of the county court proceedings. The books include valuable information on family ties, marriages, deaths, orphans, deed acknowledgements, immigration, and determining the existence of an ancestor. These books can provide information that is not found in any Deed Book or Will Book. For example, Humphry Hayes died around 1711. There is no will found for him in the Deed Book but there is an entry in the September 1711 Court that states that Adam Hayes, his next of kin, made oath that Humphry departed this life without making a will. Without the Minute Book, the death information on Humphry Hayes would be unknown. Family information can also be gleaned from these informative Minute Books, an example of this is in the December Court of 1709 when Nicholas Cocke & Frances his wife, daughter of Thomas Lawson, petitioned for a part of Thomass estate. This type of information clearly defines the family relations. An example of immigration is in the November Court of 1713 when John Bolithoe made oath that he and his wife Mary came into the Colony in the year 1693. The Princess Anne County Books contains information that may also include surnames from Norfolk County and upper northeastern North Carolina, such as Currituck County and Knotts Island. Minute Book 2 also contains processions from 1724 - 1732. A procession is when landowners walked their lines, renewed markings, and resolved disputes. In the case of an unresolved dispute, two surveyors would determine the lines in the presence of the landowners. Processions were brief entries that could help prove the existence of a relative in the area or show land ownership. An example of a procession is The line between Henry Whitehurst & Stephen Pew processioned in the presence of us Antho Web & Tho Wiles

Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to english so forgive me the dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
