

Bonnes Vacances: A Crazy Family Adventure in the French Territories

Looks like not many tourists visit St Pierre et Miquelon I mutter excitedly to Pip. That is why this trip is going to be so brilliant. He looks at me questioningly. I am distracted by Gabriels unusually pallid face. Oh my God, hes going to be sick. Rosie set out on a tour of the French Overseas Departments and Territories (the Dom-Toms ) with her husband and four young children, partly to make a documentary series but also to show the children it is possible to survive twelve weeks without Hannah Montana. From Martinique to Reunion, crossing five continents, they eat stewed iguana, 400 croissants and since the budget is small copious amounts of Campbells soup. Candid, darkly humorous and slightly mad, cut with a dash of French history, this memoir offers insights, amusement and hope for anyone who has ever travelled en famille.

Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to english so forgive me the dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
