

Second Language Inner Voice and Identity

This book is based on Brandon Kenji Shigematsu's doctoral research at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. Shigematsu's study investigates the phenomena of second language (L2) inner voice for three Japanese-American bilinguals who had long-term exposure to English, their L2, in naturalistic contexts, by living and working or studying in the U.S. The study also includes two American English-speaking learners of Japanese, as their L2; one of them had naturalistic exposure to his L2 when living and working in Japan, the other is married to a Japanese national and has traveled to Japan. Based on online responses to a questionnaire and emails, and follow-up interviews, this study reveals how and when L2 inner voice is utilized, develops, leads to shifts in identity toward the L2 language and culture, the language and culture, and how and when this takes place. This study distinguishes the functions of L2 inner voice from those of L2 inner speech, and, although at times these two co-exist and function interchangeably, Shigematsu explains how the L2 inner voice is dependent on the prior development of L2 inner speech, and how it functions as a bridge across language and cultural gaps between the L1 and L2 language and culture. Shigematsu's research in this book offers valuable insights and resources for second language teachers or anyone learning a second language, and for anyone who is interested in the relations and interactions between language and culture.

Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to English so forgive me the Dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! Categories Comics Games Playstation 4 Wii U Lifestyle Posted by Joan le Grande in Games, Playstation 4 Leave a comment Tagsexperience, first look, Games, Playstation 4, Playstation VR review, ps4 VR review, virtual reality YES YES YES. I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
