

A New Beginners Latin Book (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from A New Beginners Latin Book
In adding a new book to the large number of methods for teaching Latin to beginners, the authors feel that in many respects they have improved upon the text-books already in use. Exceptions to rules have, for the most part, been purposely omitted, since the aim is to teach the essentials of the language; the more particular points can best be acquired in connection with the reading of the classics which will follow. Many of the sentences are original, while those of more complex construction have been taken from classic authors; all have been chosen with the aim to interest the student, as well as to illustrate the rules of syntax. The words which make up the vocabulary are such as will prove to be of value in later study. Five review lessons in vocabulary have been introduced. The treatment of the subjunctive mode has been withheld until after the indicative of the four conjugations has been learned. The uses of the subjunctive are introduced in eminently logical order. The discussion of conditional sentences by means of a diagram is a new feature. The treatment of the non-finite verb forms is at once most economical and clear. Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to english so forgive me the dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
