Excerpt from Guide Through Mount Auburn: A Hand-Book for Passengers Over the Cambridge Railroad; Illustrated With Engravings and a Plan of the Cemetery Hollis Hall contains rooms for the students. It was erected in 1763, and is built of brick. It is 105 feet in length, 44 in breadth, and 37 in height. It was named after the Hollis family, several members of which were very large benefactors of the College. Holden Chapel was erected in 1744, and is of brick. The funds for its erection were contributed by the widow and daughters of Samuel Holden, a merchant of London, who died a few years before its erection. This building was long used as a chapel, but is now devoted to medical purposes, and contains a large anatomical museum. I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
