

You Dont Need to Conduct the Orchestra!: Lessons on Letting Go, Trusting and Allowing

We humans often feel the need to make things happen - to have things turn out the way we think they should. If we were facing serious challenges, or if something were working on hasnt happened, our minds tend to jump into action, trying to figure out what to do next. But the more we struggle to have things go our way, fear, discouragement or frustration can set in, only adding to our struggles. In You Dont Need to Conduct the Orchestra, Jack Armstrong shares previously unpublished spiritual teachings that gently remind us that we can let go of the struggle and then trust and allow our highest good to flow into our lives.

I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
