

A Course in Chinese Practical Writing (Chinese Edition)

A Practical Chinese Writing Course has been compiled and tailored for Chinese learners to meet their practical needs. The first chapter introduces the basic concepts and elements of practical writing in Chinese. Starting from the second chapter, students will learn through detailed step-by-step instructions how to write notes, notices, posters, announcement notices, application letters, welcoming speeches, farewell speeches, everyday letters, letters for special occasions, learning plans, learning summaries, internship reports, general speeches, news articles, and online pieces. These writing styles have been chosen to help students become familiar and comfortable with written Chinese by teaching them to master both the methods of multiple forms of practical writing, and the set forms and common sentence patterns used in these different styles.

Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to english so forgive me the dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
