

For ever and ever Evergreen (The chrystal snowflake Book 1)

Sarah was nine years old, scruffy and skinny. She liked to think she was a rough, tough tomboy, but in truth she wasn't. She was in fact very pretty. Her mother was continually tying her untidy hair back with pretty blue ribbons, and Sarah was continually shaking them out, sort of by accident she didn't like pretty blue ribbons.

But one cold winters day Sarah is forced to put away her silly, childish ways because a far-off land called, Evergreen is in big, big trouble. The seasons there have stopped, and Evergreen is stuck in summer. Which means no pretty autumn leaves, no spring flowers, and definitely no snow. Which, of course means no Christmas!

Sarah and her younger brother, Timmy have been chosen by Mother Nature herself, to set the seasons free their prison, frozen in solid ice in the great Ice Cathedral. To help them they have two invisible friends, Seebright and Talkwell, and three gigantic bees, Honey, Basil and Big Bumble, as big and as fat as the pods on the London Eye. And a huge a ladybird called, Captain Jasper. And he was as big and as red as London Transport bus. But the only transport in Evergreen was enormous dragonflies, the size of helicopters. Sarah's dragonfly was called Holly, and it had beautiful, translucent wings that changed from gold to blue as it turned and twisted in the morning sunlight. Timmy's dragonfly was called Jade, and it was as green as new-grown moss. And Seebright's dragonfly was called Spruce, with wings and body of deep turquoise. Together they must rescue Talkwell and the seasons, and break the rule of the wicked child king.

Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to english so forgive me the dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
