

Contes de Fees: Classic Fairy Tales for Beginners in French (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from Contes De Fees: Classic Fairy Tales for Beginners in French The following Classic Fairy Tales are selected from Contes de Fees (Bibliotheque Rose), Paris, Hachette et Cie., a well-known French collection. They are among the favorites of childhood in all nations, and indeed, for young and old alike, they possess an inexhaustible charm. Hence it is hoped that an edition, adapted to young or old children beginning French, will be acceptable as an addition to our store of early reading, and also as an easy and pleasant introduction to sight reading, for more advanced students. Although in recent years much has been written on the origin, diffusion, and science of Fairy Tales, yet for the purposes of this edition no elaborate introduction is needed. A few brief statements may suffice. The first five Tales are by Charles Perrault, who divides with the German Grimm Brothers and the Dane Andersen the honor of the most charming contributions in modern times to the literature of childhood. Born in Paris, 1628, of an eminent and gifted family, Perrault occupied a distinguished position in society and in State. Scholar, academician, artist, critic, friend and counsellor of Colbert, and author of elaborate works in prose and verse, he owes, strangely enough, his abiding fame to a few Tales, - the recreation of his old age, - to which, it seems, he was not even willing to give his name. They were first published under the name of his son, Perrault Darmancour, a little boy of ten years. Whether this was a mere veil, to spare the authors dignity, or what was the nature and extent of the actual collaboration, is doubtful. Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to english so forgive me the dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
