Excerpt from A Short Calendar of the Deeds Relating to Norwich: Enrolled in the Court Rolls of That City, 1285-1306
The laborious work of compiling a volume like the present is well rewarded by the numerous discoveries which the compiler makes as his task progresses. To find a Norwich bell founder, campanarius, in 1290, p. 34 - nearly a century before the earliest chronicled by such a specialist as the late John LEstrange and five surgeons, apothecaries, and medical men (pp. 5, 27, 67, 72, and 94), whose very names were unknown to Mr. C. Williams, our local medical antiquary, was satisfactory enough, but who knows what unwritten art history may not be in the entries relating to Roger le Peyntur in 1289-90, p. 29. Robert le Peyntor on p. 106 was probably the Robert de Mendlesham whose son John occurs as pictor on p. 91, and Peter Pictor, p. 1. The growth of the woad industry here finds much illustration in the following pages. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
