

Minimum French Grammar and Reader: With Exercises and Graded Selections for Reading, and Dictation, and Review Exercises, for Translation Into French (Classic Reprint)

The purpose of this book is briefly indicated in its title. It is, to compress within the minimum of space, time, and labor the essentials of French, necessary as preparation for reading. There is now a general consensus among teachers of whatever creed in favor of reducing the introductory work in grammar; and the multitude of helpful editions, now accessible in every style of literature, render elaborate introductory Headers no longer necessary. This little book attempts to combine the essentials of Grammar and of Header, within the briefest compass. It is assumed that (under whatever ulterior method) the first and chief object in learning French, etc., is to read it: after this all other objects and methods become alike reasonable and easy. The effort has been made here to make the progress to reading as rapid and as easy as possible, consistently with such foundation of grammar as may insure intelligence and accuracy. For this purpose a double scheme of method has been adopted. Each chapter consists of two parts: one (A) pursues briefly the ordinary course of grammatical topics; the other (B) presents a continuous verb-lesson. For each division appropriate exercises and selections for reading are provided, with due (yet not excessive) help and suggestion. Thus at an early day the student is prepared to read intelligently, within definite limits; and these limits are constantly and rapidly enlarged. Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to english so forgive me the dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
