

Forty-Eighth Annual Meeting of the Maryland State Teachers Association, 1915 (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from Forty-Eighth Annual Meeting of the Maryland State Teachers Association, 1915

In obedience to a requirement of our statute law to the effect that the State Superintendent of Public Education shall print and distribute the proceedings of the Maryland State Teachers Association each year a meeting is held, I am causing to be printed nine hundred copies. The questions naturally arise with some, why are there but nine hundred copies of the proceedings while there are more than five thousand teachers in the State? Why is not a copy sent to every teacher? I wish these questions could find wider discussion among the teachers themselves! Certainly every teacher should have these volumes of proceedings as a part of his or her professional library. Indeed, no library of a Maryland school teacher can be considered up-to-date unless it has a record of the best educational thought which dominates and directs school interests of the State. The proceedings of the Maryland State Teachers Association are made up from expressions of such thought and record the expert opinions of those who are leading in the movement of popular education in the State. It is rather hard to class those teachers who lack professional loyalty to the extent they will not become members of our only State organization for teachers and who, apparently, are so indifferent to new ideas, results for experiments, materials for comparisons, etc., in the teaching field that the opportunity to be part of a teachers organization for professional betterment and secure each year a record of such advancement makes no successful appeal. The explanation that only nine hundred copies of the proceedings are published and distributed is made when we state that less than nine hundred of our army of more than 4,500 white teachers are members and consequently entitled to receive them. If the percentage of teachers who fail to enroll as members were exceedingly small one would freely venture the suggestion that they had reached the dead line and their places should be filled by putting in live teachers. But it will not do to make this criticism against eighty per cent, of our teaching corps for obvious reasons. There are certain primary restrictions and requirements which ought to be imposed on every teacher because they affect in a most vital way the character of the work such a teacher does. Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to english so forgive me the dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! Categories Comics Games Playstation 4 Wii U Lifestyle Posted by Joan le Grande in Games, Playstation 4 Leave a comment Tagsexperience, first look, Games, Playstation 4, Playstation VR review, ps4 VR review, virtual reality YES YES YES. I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
