

High Five: v. 1

This is part of an American English course for children aged six to 12. The course systematically develops children's awareness of the language system and attaches equal importance to the development of the four skills, although the emphasis in Levels One to Three is on listening and speaking. The pupils' books contain both presentation and practice pages and can be used with or without the activity books. The activity books consist of additional practice and, when used together, the two books provide up to five hours of English per week. The teachers' books provide a methodological introduction to the course, step-by-step lesson plans, optional activities, photocopiable progress tests and a full answer key and tapescript.

Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to English so forgive me the Dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
