

How to get whatever you want out of life

Psychologists have amassed a tremendous amount of information about people. What makes them angry, what frustrates them, what makes them coo with pleasure. We know why some people succeed and others do not. But psychological findings can also -- and should -- be used to enrich the lives of people who are healthy and vibrant, to make their lives even more joyful. In the following pages, I outline key psychological findings and techniques and explain how you can use them to attain your own goals. There is nothing esoteric about the techniques that I recommend. They are scientifically based, absolutely straightforward and uncomplicated. There are no gimmicks here. No false promises. You can put what you learn to work immediately. And you can use this knowledge to get whatever you want out of life. Dr. Joyce Brothers

Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
