

Mr. Bones

And the kids that made it back, they all say the same thing. They heard him coming. What did they hear? Clickity clack..clickity clackclickity clack. When Taylors mother decided that he needed to leave the big city and go spend it with his cousin Etienne in the Louisiana parish, never did he imagine what a change it would be. From the cold tall buildings of the city to the wide open expanse of the bayou, here would he spend a summer that he would never forget. Leaving behind the cold loud sounds of the city to hearing the hushed wind blow through the willows whispering loudly tales of days gone by. Here he will learn of pirates lost in the bayou, finding lost people, and people staying lost. And when lost children cause their pirate father to search for them, he will search endlessly for them; be it in the bayou or anywhere else!

Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to english so forgive me the dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
