

Ni Hao 4 (Simplified Character Edition) Workbook

The student workbook for Ni Hao, Volume 4 provides a variety of activities using all four communication skills, corresponding to the lessons in the Ni Hao, Volume 4 textbook. Activities can be adapted to suit the needs of the class or the individual. Chinese characters are used in conjunction with pinyin throughout the book to reinforce the student's reading and writing skills. By Volume 4, students are required to write almost exclusively in characters. Very few characters have pinyin listed. Characters learned are listed in the textbook in each lesson and included in the Writing Exercise section of the workbook. Both are illustrated with stroke order. This workbook is in simplified characters only. What's new in the Revised Edition? The revised edition offers easier language, practical content, and more reading material for language reinforcement to lead into the forthcoming Ni Hao 5. Each lesson has three sections instead of four and less new words to focus language learning and target a stronger vocabulary base. A new two-page revision reading section helps students expand their comprehension skills.

Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to english so forgive me the dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
