

Thoughts on Life

Have you ever felt stuck? Do you sometimes feel alone with no direction to your life? Well... you are not alone. Athena Brady is proof that things can and WILL get better. This book is a collection of short articles about the many issues we encounter, as we navigate through life. My aim is to uplift and inspire people to follow their dreams and encourage others to do the same. We are all connected and whatever we do for others, we also do for ourselves. If we lived our lives according to this principle, we would never harm another person. Athena is fifty-two years old and lives in the beautiful countryside of West Wales. She is a mother with four grown-up children, two boys and two girls. After working for many years in the caring profession, Athena decided to pursue her lifelong ambition to be a writer. This is the first of many books she intends to write. Athena welcomes messages from her readers and here are her contact details.

Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to English so forgive me the Dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
