

How to Easily and Inexpensively Create Your Own CD

Audio CDs are a fast path to quick cash. That's why I just wrote a no-nonsense how-to e-book for you called How to Easily and Inexpensively Create Your Own Audio CDs to help you simply do it, this week, with very little investment! Why do we need your own audio CDs on sale right now? Because they can earn you as much as 10 times per unit as the printed word, take a tenth of the time to write and set up, cost a twentieth as much to develop, and can be sold while you are waiting for your writing to see publishing light. They're great for speakers. As back-of-the-room products they can easily double your income, and capture your seminar or once-in-a-lifetime presentation forever. Publishers love them. What better a selling partner than the text in the author's words, as an audio book, selected sections, inspiration shorts, or chapters up-dated or expanded? Writers? CDs quickly fill their website product page(s) with high quality aural (and visual) original creations. I'll show you how to make them right away, classy looking too. Let's face it, paperback books can take almost forever to write, publish, and sell. Audio products to the rescue! You have two choices: you can do it yourself or you can farm it out. Doing it yourself can be fast and should cost less. This book walks you through the process. But it also shows how to get others to do it for you. I provide two links where professionals will bid against each other to produce your audio CDs right now. This e-book will tell you all that you need to know and do in the simplest step-by-step way. You may already have almost all of the tools you need on your computer. If not, much of the missing software is either free (just activate the book's links) or you can buy it new (or used), usually for $50 or less. Lots of people want to hear your wisdom. Others want to read it. And some want both. But if you don't make it available in each format, they are deprived.

and you are poorer. On the contrary, you should be well paid for making and providing the audio CDs. In this e-book, we focus on those who want to hear you while they drive, from their iPod, through their computer or wherever they learn by ear. I show you * how to determine who those buyers are* how to put your words into script form* how to record and edit them, and * how to add some final touches to a good-looking audio package. How do you sell your audio CDs? It's almost a crime not to make your genius available if you're already offering seminars, workshops, breakout sessions, speeches, or training sessions. And not to get paid for it again! Audio CDs can bring you a solid, passive font of income, whether you sell them, sell through affiliates, or let the Web marketers add you to their lists or do all of that and more. What if your spoken program needs an accompanying workbook? I'll show you how to mix the two and still get the audio to play on your car radio! And what if you are in the middle of writing your book or it's already in print? It's flat-out unkind (and financially dimwitted) not to share that book (or at least the heart of its message) by audio CD if the script is just sitting there shouting to be read or heard. Help a grateful, paying non-reading audience get your words now. (Surprisingly, many more will buy the printed words later!) Why not make a dozen audio CDs by recording the core of each of your chapters even before the printing presses start to roll? You can't make audio CDs because you already have audio cassettes? Tell me about it. Those audio cassettes earned us a steady five-figure sinecure every year for almost two decades. They were so easy to record and produce (although much harder to edit). But it's 2012 and the audio cassettes are as outdated as a Studebaker, those 78s in that box under your bed, and your 20-year-old typewriter in the attic. Forget the audio cassettes, buy this ebook, and rev up another income font.

Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to English so forgive me the Dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
