

The Attentive Eye: Selected Journalism

Helen Dudar...is a writers writer, a journalists journalist, and a reporters reporter. Shes a generalist in the most flattering sense of the wordtheres no subject she cant write about with intelligence. Well, not mere intelligencea demanding, sinewy intelligence, to quote one of Helens more felicitous phrases, which happens to be quoted in Websters Dictionary, no less. Helen Dudar frequently writes about the theatre, it would say at the bottom of her articles. Or: Helen Dudar frequently writes about art. Or: Helen Dudar frequently writes about publishing. The truth is that Helen Dudar frequently writes about everything, and does it better than just about anyone else.From the introduction by the filmmaker NORA EPHRON Helen Dudar works in words the way a potter works in clay or a painter works in oil. When the craftsmanship gets seriously good, its the tip-off that there is the sense and sensibility of an artist behind the artisan. Anyone who has read Dudars journalismor rubbed shoulders with the woman herselfwill have detected the artist behind the artisan...Her journalism invites youit obliges youto think.ROBERT LITTELL, author of The Company: A Novel of the CIA

Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
