

The Dog Walked Down the Street: An Outspoken Guide for Writers Who Want to Publish

A great book for first time and experienced writers in search of answers and support while going through the process of writing, publishing, and selling a book. Inspiration has never been easy to come by, and sound advice for writers can be equally hard to find. Few writers have a realistic idea of what actually goes on inside the publishing industry, nor of how to work with a publisher, editor, or graphic designer. Sal Glynn provides immediate answers to questions posed by writers who've found themselves struggling with the specifics of trying to get published while contending with the common obstacles to writing well and completing a manuscript without succumbing to writers block, fatigue, self-doubt, and depression.

I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
