

Grammar, Vol. 4 (Classic Reprint)

This grammar, of which the present volume is the fourth in a series of four, is a practical working text-book for pupils of elementary-school grade. It provides a wealth of exercises arranged in logical sequence such as to make the mastery of grammar comparatively easy and the demands on the teacher relatively light. The inductive method is inherent; both teacher and pupil are forced to this form of reasoning by the method of presentation and the very nature and order of the exercises. The inductive method takes the form of asking the pupil to observe a number of particular instances illustrating the topic, to note the generalization based on these instances, and to apply the generalization to exercises, an example of which is given when deemed advisable. It is assumed that the teacher knows how to teach, how to present new matter, how to review and to drill, and how to teach pupils to study. Her chief need is a liberal supply of material. In this series exercises are given in profusion, and the space on the page is used to the maximum consistent with artistic typography. No teacher, however, should be appalled by the quantity of material offered. She may not use it all, but it is here if she wants it. A striking feature is that most of it lends itself readily for use in the study period, group work, and homework. Definitions and rules are given in matters essential only. They may be memorized as the work proceeds; for the convenience of the student they are collated at the end of the volume. Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to english so forgive me the dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
