

Tennessee Marriage Records : Blount County, 1795-1859

Blount County was erected from Knox County in 1795, just one year before Tennessee won statehood. Its marriage records date from 1795 and are recorded in a register in the county clerks office in Maryville. The marriages listed in this work have been copied from that register. The majority of the records derive from marriage licenses and thus prove that a marriage was performed. In some cases the records derive solely from marriage bonds, which in themselves are not proof of marriage, only that a marriage was intended. Arranged in alphabetical order by the surname of the groom, the records abstracted here give the names of the bride and groom, the date of issue of the marriage bond or license, and the names of the bondsmen. Altogether 4,000 marriages are listed in this work, which also features a separate index of brides.

Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to english so forgive me the dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! Categories Comics Games Playstation 4 Wii U Lifestyle Posted by Joan le Grande in Games, Playstation 4 Leave a comment Tagsexperience, first look, Games, Playstation 4, Playstation VR review, ps4 VR review, virtual reality YES YES YES. I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
