

Womens Wicked Wit

Forget scratching and hair-pulling, once a girl gets past the age of eight she knows that her deadliest weapon is her tongue. For centuries history has really been His story - publicly, at least, women have been spoken for by men and lived in a world controlled by men. But in truth women have always had plenty to say about this and Womens Wicked Wit is a selection of their sharpest comments on life, on men and on each other. Two-thousand witticisms from all ages and cultures are arranged according to subject, (or victim) and nothing and no-one escapes. This selection by novelist, publisher and anthologist Michelle Lovric proves that when it comes to chopping someone down to size with a cutting remark, the female of the species is indeed more deadly than the male.

Welcome to the blog of Joan le Grande. I'm changing the blog to english so forgive me the dutch articles before. I already translated a few, keeping it up! Anyway, stay tuned for lifestyle articles and reviews about games or other nerdy stuff. Enjoy! I'm super hyped about the VR, but you obviously knew that already because of my last blogpost. There were a few hiccups because I ordered it online and I was working during the time it came. I stressed, freaked, jumped and finally gave up on the thought I got to play on the day it came out. But luck was on my side and when I got home, 20 minutes later the VR glasses arrived! In this post I will take you with me on my first experience with virtual reality. Was it as awesome as I hoped? Or is nauseating and not really my cup of tea? Read and find out!
